President's Message By Jan Godfrey

January 2019

(Editor's Note)

There is no President's Message for the January issue of the "Regarding Roses". President Jan Godfrey has been quite ill during the holidays. Her message will return next month. You may contact her at 850-442-9076 or JanieG@tds.net.

We hope that you will enjoy this article on Fortuniana Rootstock. It is timely since our program this month includes information on this subject and there has been interest from members in the past.

Fortuniana

(Summary of Information based on comments from Jim Mills of K and M Roses)

Fortuniana is the preferred rootstock for grafted roses grown in the south. It is resistant to nematodes. Nematodes are in most southern soils and they attack the roots of roses and may destroy them. Fortuniana is also resistant to other root diseases. The root system of fortuniana is fibrous and extend out from the plant for a massive root system. Blooms on the plant will be larger and plants produce more leaves. Plants are also larger and rootstock is winter hardy after the first year.

Fortuniana rootstock roses are grown and sold in containers and should be planted the same depth as they are in the containers. The graft union should be above soil level. It is a good idea to use a small amount of time release fertilizer in the bottom of the hole before planting. Adjust the height of the plant to the hole and fill the hole one half full of soil mixture. Water and let drain. Fill the hole completely, water and allow to drain. Immediately stake each bush. A four foot rebar is suggested and tie above the graft with strips of panty hose. This will protect the graft during strong winds. Add more time release fertilizer and also Milorganite. Add mulch such as pine straw.

Fortuniana plants require water and regular watering is very important to your roses. Check your soil by sticking your finger in it. If the soil is damp no need for more water. A watering system that you can adjust is best; however, watering with a hose is also good.

Fortuniana plants are heavy feeders and a regular fertilizer program is required. They will need nutrients to produce many bloom through out the bloom season. Fertilizers and water go hand in hand.

Thought You'd Like To Know— New Year

Yes, there is a rose named New Year and since that holiday will come soon we thought you would like to know. It is a grandiflora hybridized in 1982 by Sam McGredy IV and introduced in 1983. It won the AARS award in 1987. The bloom size is medium and the color is an orange blend. It has 20 petals and a light fragrance. Because of the petal count it opens quickly. The foliage is large and dark green. There is also a climbing sport. Its growth habit is like a shrub and it does better in full sun. Give it a try in your garden? You may like this grandiflora

January Consulting Rosarian Report

By Mary Maud Sharpe

Happy New Year and Happy Rose Growing in 2019. January is planning and preparation month for rosarians. Plan changes you would like to make for your garden, by replacing older plants that have not done well or adding new one that you have been wanting. Prepare new beds! Buy supplies you will need such as fertilizers and spray materials. Clean your tools. Do a soil test and add lime or sulfur if needed to adjust the pH. Attack winter weeds that seem to appear each year and get mulch ready. Do a dormant spray such as lime sulfur. Good planning and preparation is the key to good roses during bloom time. The things you can do ahead of time will help later when you are busy doing the many things that need to be done. Planning and preparation pay big dividends in growing good roses.

I do hope that many of you are planning to get some new plants for existing bed or new beds. It is always interesting to see if the new varieties are as good as the photos in both color and form.

Remember the Old Garden Rose Sale at Goodwood Museum and Gardens is mid-February. Save somewhere in your landscape to add several plants. Now is a good time to check your irrigation system, if you have one to be sure that it is working properly.

Check on all the supplies you will need later in the year. Sharpen your clippers as next month is pruning time. Resist the effort to prune too early! It can be very tempting if we get some warm weather.

Check with any of the society ARS Consulting Rosarians should you need advice. They are listed on page 4 and will be pleased to share their experiences. May this year be a great year for you and your roses! Remember to share with family, friends and neighbors. A rose can put a smile on their face.

Tetanus What You Should Know and What You Should Do

All gardeners should be aware of some basic facts about tetanus and make certain that their tetanus immunizations are current. The wound need be no larger than a thorn prick to harbor bacteria to produce the toxin which is very poisonous. In recent years approximately 11% of reported tetanus cases have been fatal. The highest mortality rates are in unvaccinated persons and persons over 60 years of age. Tetanus, also called lockjaw is a medical condition characterized by a contraction of muscle fibers. The incubation period is usually about 8 days, but may be as long as several months. There is no blood test that can be used to diagnose tetanus. Diagnosis is made from symptoms. It is best to prevent tetanus by vaccination. The CDC recommends that adults receive a booster vaccine every ten years. Some doctors recommend boosters every five years. It is standard practice to give a booster if persons are uncertain of when they were vaccinated. Tetanus occurs in soils rich in organic matter. Tetanus is often associated with rust, especially rusty nails. This concept is misleading, but the rough surface of rusty metal provides a habitat for C. tetani endospore and the nail may puncture the skin and allow endospore to enter the wound. When tetanus infection does occur, it is highly lethal. If a tetanus develops in an person who has not been immunized, the fatality rate runs from 45 to 55 percent with the best hospital care. Always consult you health care provider for more information. Never neglect a wound. Keep your booster vaccinations up to date! It is easy to protect yourself. (This is reprinted as a reminder)

2019 Resolutions

There has been a lot said for the advantages of New Year Resolutions and comments that they are too hard to keep. Many of us do not follow through as we should, but to get a chance to start anew has a certain appeal especially to rosarians because it is a new year of rose growing. So here are a few for you to consider.

- Grow better roses.
- Remember the things that worked in the past and plan to do them again.
- Learn something new!
- Find a mentor and don't be afraid to ask for help and advice.
- Keep a calendar of what you do and when you do it to use as a reference for future activities and to remind you of things you should do and when.
- Buy at least one new rose.
- Plan to rejoin TARS and attend all the society meetings if possible. Meet a member you do not know well and visit with them.
- Get one new rose book.
- Volunteer to help on a society committee.
- Visit your rose garden more frequently just to see and smell the roses.
- Share roses with others—neighbors or friends.

You can think of other resolutions. Add them to this list and don't worry if you don't keep all of them. Start the new year with enthusiasm for your rose growing hobby! May 2019 be a good year for you and your roses.
